EXPENDITURE STRUCTURE

I. INTRODUCTION

A. General

The Expenditure Structure is a mechanism for classifying in a systematic manner different types of expenditures and for collecting expenditure information. The information is used for accounting control, financial management, and budgeting purposes.

B. Levels of Expenditure Definitions

1. Character of Expenditure. The broadest grouping of expenditures, based on designated use. The characters of expenditure consist of three major divisions: Operating Expenses, Fixed Asset Expenses, and Debt Service Expenses.
2. Major Object of Expenditure. The broadest subdivision of character, which describes an aggregation of objects of expenditure.
3. Object of Expenditure. An organization of expenditures, which describes an aggregation of subobjects of expenditure.
4. Subobject of Expenditure. A distinct expenditure.
5. Coding. The expenditure classification code consists of four digits, which identify the following components:

- a. The first digit denotes the expenditure character, such as:
 - 1xxx - Operating Expenses
 - 2xxx - Fixed Asset Expenses
 - 3xxx - Debt Service Expenses
- b. The two left digits denote the major object classification of expenditure, such as:

11xx - Personal Services
12xx - Contractual Services

- c. The three left digits denote the object of expenditure, such as:
 - 111x - Employee Benefits
 - 112x - Salaries
- d. The four digits denote the subobject of expenditure, such as:
 - 1111 - Employer Retirement Contributions– VRS Defined Benefits program
 - 1114 - Group Life Insurance
- e. For accounting purposes, all source documents must be coded at the subobject of expenditure level using the four-digit code, e.g., 1113. For budgeting purposes, the level of expenditure used will differ depending upon the requirements for the source documents.
