The “Catch-22” that these bills fix arises because one provision of the 2016 Stormwater and Erosion and Sediment Control Consolidation Bill, Chapters 68 and 758 of the 2016 Acts of Assembly, states that a locality that does not operate a Virginia Stormwater Management Program cannot approve erosion and sediment control plans for a project until DEQ has issued stormwater permit coverage for the project. However, another provision in this law states that

				DEQ cannot issue stormwater permit coverage for a project until the locality has approved the erosion and sediment control plans for the project. These bills fix the “Catch-22” by setting up a sequence where the locality will review and approve erosion and sediment control plans, and then obtain evidence of stormwater permit coverage before issuing its land disturbance approval.
